When Jehiel Barnard was married to Delia Scrantom, eldest daughter of Hamlet, Sunday, October 8th, 1815, she, Delia, was 16 years older than Hannah Scrantom, her sister.

Tuesday, January 24, 1815. H. Scrantom writes to his father in Durham, Ct., that he has moved out of the village onto his lot one mile up the river from the bridge on the east side of the river, in the town of Brighton, lately set off from the town of Boyle, have 32⅔ acres of land, 12 acres cleared and under fence, etc., but his two lots in the village he has not sold. The children go to school at a new schoolhouse which we built last summer in the village.

Saturday, June 3, 1815, I have again gone to tending a grist mill. Have hired for a year as principal miller for Capt. Brown, and have moved into his house, he being a single man, we board him and his workmen by the week, and have also our provisions of him. The mill is but a short distance below Rochester, where I formerly lived. After speaking of his wages at the mill, $450 per year for Elbert W. and himself, he says, We have an addition to our family, a daughter, 3 weeks old, Mary Jane Scrantom.

January, 1819, He writes, he continues to tend Bissell and Ely's mill, until about two weeks past, being obliged to keep it going night and day.

May 6, 1819, Thursday. Lot No. 101, being 66 feet front and rear and 200 feet deep for $250, Town of Gates, County of Genesee, Village of Frankfort, N.Y. State.

The Lot, which, so far as is known, was the first ever purchased on the west side of the river, was bought from Col. Nathaniel Rochester by Henry Skinner, and was in possession of Henry Skinner when he contracted with Hamlet Scrantom to build for him a log house on the present corner. The building was commenced early in 1812, and in June of that year Hamlet Scrantom completed the structure by roofing it with slabs from the sawmill, built in 1808 or 9 on the east bank of the Genesee, near the present Aqueduct, which were carted across the river, as the bridge was not then completed.

On the Fourth of July, 1812, Saturday, the house was first occupied, and the celebration of the nation's birthday, consisted, in great part, of good bonfires, built in front of the log hut. Mr. Scrantom's family comprised himself, Mrs. Scrantom, two daughters, Delia and Hannah Camp, and four sons, Henry, Elbert W., Edwin and Hamlet Dimmock.

In 1813, On the west side of the river, near where now, in 1872, is the Hardware store of Burke & Co., was a small house, occupied by Hamlet Scrantom and family, just beyond the Arcade, Powers Block Lot.

In 1818, Azel Ensworth bought the lot and erected a large wooden house on the corner, moving back the old log house, and using it as a stable for the hotel, The Eagle Tavern. Mr. Ensworth was the landlord of his own Tavern, and a few years later, he added to it an attic, which was the first room in Rochester, used as a public hall. The great bridge was built over the river at Carthage.

May 4, 1810. Fri. James S. Stone, the first white child born in the town of Boyle, now Brighton, from which the city east of the Genesee, is now taken. Col. Nathaniel Rochester and his associates laid out the 100 Acre Tract and began selling lots.

In 1809, Enos Stone constructed a saw-mill on the east bank of the river, near the present Aqueduct. 1810, Enos Stone put up the first frame house east of the river and Jacob Miller also settled here. First bridge built. In 1812, Isaac W. Stone built a saw-mill near Enos Stone's log house.

July 28, Tues. 1812 Hamlet Scrantom wrote to his Father in Durham, Ct., "I have been living in a small house on the east side of the river, have tended saw-mill thirty-three days, cut thirty-eight thousand feet of boards, have now moved across the river, west side, and am about to put me up a small house, on my lot. The country is timbered with all kinds of oak, whitewood, chestnut, hickory, black walnut, etc., and many trees of an enormous size. I sawed one whitewood log, 12 feet long, which made 1008 feet of clapboards. The first hotel was established by Isaac W. Stone. (I arrived here with my family May 2, 1812, from Turin.) My lot is the second from the river, about the end of the bridge. A bridge is almost completed which costs $8000, and roads center from all directions. Hamlet Scrantom moved into his new house Monday, December 4th, 1812.

Feb. 7, 1813. At present I have taken a saw-mill. The one half, I tend on shares, and the other half, I saw for one dollar per thousand. The saw-mill, the main source from which I receive my support, has been lying still by reason of cold weather for some days past. I have had it going for two days, and great call for boards has been the means of depriving me of sleep, etc.

Dec. 2, 1813. Tues. Last year at this time, Dec., 1812, I had but one neighbour in the village. Now, I have ten. That is, there are eleven families, all compact, and every lot on the Main St. is taken up, and a number of back lots, and there must be at least 20 houses built next summer. There were 5 saw-mills in 1813. Capt. Ely and Co. from Pittsfield have a saw-mill at the end of the bridge, almost ready to run. They have built a store, which store and saw-mill they have been five weeks in building. My business one half of the time, is tending saw-mill. Since last February, I have tended every other fortnight. Have cut rising of 120 thousand feet of stuff, sixty thousand of which was pine. The water has been very low the last summer and the mill is not calculated to take the advantage of low water. Money for sawing is one quarter of the profits of the mill, which at the price of boards, is one dollar, 8 cents per thousand. In May, the 2d, 1814, he writes that he has relinquished the saw-mill, found that it was wearing him out too fast, and has erected a large bake oven. He established the baking business in that place with J. Barnard.

In June and August, 1815, he was in Capt. Brown's grist-mill, hired for a year as principal miller.
Elisha Ely, Josiah Bissell and Hervey Ely erected mills in 1814 at the first falls, flour mills.
In the fall of 1815, Hamlet Scrantom lived in a house owned by the late Dr. Mathew Brown and Frances Brown.
In 1819, he says he continues to tend Bissell and Ely's Mill, 1820 the same.
Monday, June 15th, 1829, commenced making bolting cloths for Hervey Ely.
H. Scrantom expected to go into the tanning business in the Spring of 1813.
In the Fall of 1814, H. Scrantom lived where Mr. Elwanger now lives, Mt. Hope Ave., in 1869. H. Scrantom and Jehiel Barnard had a clothing store on Exchange St. at one time.
